President's Message

This was a year of major transition for the Japanese American Service Committee (JASC). In years past, little had changed for JASC in the day to day administration of the office. We pursued special projects and performed our social services. We had become complacent in our middle age. Along the way, we lost our link to the very community we served. Only one in twenty Japanese Americans in the metropolitan area was a JASC member and many sansei and yonsei did not know or appreciate what we did.

Achieving our fiftieth anniversary during the fiscal year provided the opportunity to reflect upon the type of organization we were in 1945-1946 and the organization we had become in 1995-1996.

In the beginning, the Japanese American community in Chicago was very close-knit, one engaged in its common welfare and aware of its differences from the larger society. Today, fifty years later, Americans of Japanese ancestry are widely assimilated, more affluent and less involved with each other. There is, however, still a need to preserve a sense of identity for ourselves and our children. To know where we come from can help us reach where we want to be. JASC is rooted in the past but committed to our future.

During the fiscal year, several difficult decisions were made: the Board eliminated three staff positions resulting in cost savings and greater Board responsibility for public relations, programming and fiscal operations. We completed repairs on the roof, parking lot and HVAC system. We opened our doors to new organizations like Tohkon Judo Academy and Stir-Friday Night! and we continued to engage in joint activities with the Japanese American Citizens League (Intergenerational Dialogues and the community picnics). We provided support to the Sansei Yonsei Athletic Association basketball clinic and we introduced Chicago to the Sansei fashions of Kanojo.

Not all our actions were viewed positively, but during the past fiscal year JASC repaid loans and funds borrowed during the construction and operation of the Keiro Extended Care Center. We continue to handle claims and liabilities stemming from our ownership of that facility and addressed anger from members of the community that reflected a loss of trust and made efforts to regain that valuable asset.

I hope that as a result of our actions, corporate and individual membership increased. The former by ten percent and the latter by twenty percent. Having plugged the "leaks" and patched the "ship", JASC is poised to face the future.

We stand proudly as five generations of Americans of Japanese ancestry in the Chicago area, each of which has had to rise above adverse circumstances to thrive. This is not unlike the concept in zen philosophy represented by the lotus.

Our new logo combines tradition and history. The lotus reflects our beliefs; the five waves encircling the lotus represent the five generations who have always supported one another in providing service to the community.

Our appreciation to Board Member Bob Kumaki for the logo and the motto "For our parents...for our children". JASC will continue to strive to provide a resource for all of us into our next fifty years.

Executive Director's Report

What's going on at JASC? A person might know about JASC, but it's only after he or she actually spends some time here that a common response is, "Hey, it's busy . . . I didn't know so many activities went on here!" What might you see if you visited JASC?

- The dignified presence of 90-plus-year-old Adult Day Care seniors lifting arms and tapping feet to exercise music . . . or excitedly mulling over what bingo prize to choose.
- A group of noisy volunteers stuffing envelopes for a JASC mailing - who get even noisier when the executive director promises them a big raise.
- A warm smell is coming from the ceramic kilns.
- Graceful ladies in kimono are practicing minyo dancing.
- Quiet concentration is evident in the Ikebana flower-arranging class.
- The Golden Diners volunteers announce "Lunch time!" Today, the neighborhood lunch regulars are joined by a local church group.

- An occasional shout can be heard from the judo area.
- Tables are arranged for a New Horizons' meeting this evening.
- Some board members are meeting in the conference room to explore possible child day care programs for JASC.
- Another board member rushes in loaded down with bags of Japanese food ingredients for the cooking class this weekend.
- Someone drops off a donation of Japanese art items.
- Nisei Post members come to check on equipment for the barbecue pit.
- Staff is busy making calls to coordinate community groups and churches who are volunteering to help with a JASC fund-raiser.

Just like that, the day has zipped by! Besides the busy social service programs, the JASC building's activities show it to be a vibrant community center.

Drop in to visit anytime!

Dr. Sunnan Kubose
Executive Director

Executive Director's Report

As an integral part of the Chicago mosaic, the JASC is a dedicated and hard-working social service provider.

The JASC unifies the spirit of the Japanese American community to provide social and community services for all, without regard to religion, professional affiliation, generation, political attitude or geographic location.

More than just a social service agency, the exclusive special interest of the JASC is serving the social and cultural needs of the Japanese American community.

Celebrating the first fifty years, the JASC's new logo represents the link to the past and hope for the future. Generations of Japanese Americans can feel proud of their history as we look toward a bright tomorrow.

Adult Day Care

This program allows the elderly to stay with their families and avoid institutional care. Transportation to and from JASC is provided by our customized bus. Activities are structured in a group setting to improve the physical and mental well-being of older adults.

Participants eat a noon meal together and share such activities as field trips, ceramic and exercise classes. The social service and nursing staff develop individual plans for each participant and monitor their progress.

Chore Services

The chore homemaker services offers cleaning, shopping, laundry, and food preparation for the elderly—either at Heiwa Terrace, a senior citizens' residential unit, or at other locations. This service promotes independent living and provides practical assistance. The service can be ongoing or temporary such as when people have been recently discharged from hospitals and are unable to fully take care of themselves.

Counseling and Case Work

This service helps clients achieve optimal psychological functioning and social adjustment. A bi-lingual counselor who speaks Japanese deals with questions involving financial and health issues as well as personal and family problems. This service is especially helpful to Japanese-speaking clients, since it is often difficult for them to obtain help in other agencies where counselors do not speak Japanese and usually do not understand the client's cultural background.

Group Services

This program offers cultural classes such as minyo (folk music and dancing), sumie (ink painting), calligraphy, ikebana (flower-arranging), the art of tea, origami (paper-folding), kaminingyo (paper doll construction), kimekomi ningyo (Japanese doll-making)<sup>15</sup> and other crafts. Ceramics, Japanese language and Japanese cooking classes are also offered.

Programs on health and education are presented by this division of JASC as well as city-sponsored nutrition and "Volunteer Home Delivered Meals" services to the home-bound elderly. JASC's health screening blood tests and free flu shots are also part of the Group Services program.
